HUMBOLDT-KOLLEG BUDAPEST 2015
"Symposium on International Climate Protection"
November 13-14th 2015

Auditorium of Department of Dermatology, Venereology and Dermatocology, Semmelweis University (Mária u. 41. H-1085 Budapest VIII.)

Language: German and English

The process of climate change has enormously accelerated in recent years. The cause of this rapid change is the rising concentration of CO₂ emitted into the atmosphere. The consequences are extreme weather conditions, especially droughts, rising sea level, loss of biodiversity and the increasing number of tropical diseases around the world, also in Europe.

The goal of this year's symposium is to record and discuss international trends in climate protection. Beside lectures by scientists from the region, leading Humboldt scholars from different continents will also contribute by giving virtual presentations. Students will have the opportunity to take part in round table discussions with leading Humboldt scientists.

We will contribute to the preparation phase of the climate conference in Paris in December 2015.
